THE RE-OPENING OF THE R202 (3.45%; 2033) INFLATION-LINKED BOND

The National Treasury utilises a wide range of instruments to finance its borrowing requirement. To manage certain risks, the issuance of some of these instruments is suspended and re-opened when necessary, at the discretion of the National Treasury. As such, the National Treasury will be re-opening the R202 (3.45%; 2033) inflation-linked bond. The instrument will be used as an additional funding tool for the remainder of the 2023/24 fiscal year.
